

Migrant Landbird Study Group

Migratory Landbird Study Group (MLSG) Pre-EOU conference symposium Lund August 2023

The MLSG will be hosting a symposium on migratory land bird research on the day before the EOU conference August 21st 2023. The symposium will consist of invited talks, speed talks from attendees and workshops to facilitate the networking aims of the MLSG. The MLSG – Migratory Landbird Study Group – is a network to connect people working on migrant landbirds, whether pure research or their conservation, to facilitate both (<http://migrantlandbirds.org>). Collaboration and communication make a difference – particularly when the solution to understanding and conserving migrants must involve all of us on the flyways working together. The symposium repeats successful events at several previous EOU and PAOC conferences. To attend please simply register for an additional day at the EOU – Monday 21st August (the EOU starts that Monday evening) and arrive a day before on Sunday 20th August. The MLSG symposium will cost an extra 40 Euros that can be paid when registering and paying for the EOU itself, via the EOU registration portal.

For further information please email wrlc@st-and.ac.uk